For Immediate Release:

OMAHA, Neb. & SYDNEY--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Managed.com, a world-leading provider of enterprise website infrastructure and white glove service, and elcomCMS, a global provider of enterprise web content management solutions, have partnered to deliver high value, premium website solutions worldwide.

"We are a recognized leader in enterprise Web Content Management Systems," said John Anstey, CEO of Elcom Technology Inc. "Adoption by international organizations prompted us to identify a global infrastructure partner as committed to customer success and satisfaction as we are. Managed.com is the perfect fit."

elcomCMS was designed to help organizations manage internal and external web content across browsers and mobile devices.

"This positions them ideally to broadcast elcomCMS sites from Managed.com's highly available global network with the superior service and support they need."

"elcomCMS is firing on all cylinders," said Tony Valenti, CEO of Managed.com. "The user interface brings powerfully simple content management to the Windows.NET platform; making it ideal for seamless integration with Microsoft SharePoint, Active Directory, and best of breed CRM and Marketing Automation platforms. These are features that enterprise customers want. We are excited to add elcomCMS to our fully managed environment."
